TRUTH, JUSTICE AND THE CONSTITUTION.

VOLUME X.] ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 8, 1859. [NUMBER 3.

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

DOCTOR JOHNSTON,

THE founder of this Celebrated Institution, offers the most certain, speedy, and only actual remedy in the world for Gleets, Strictures, Seminal weakness, Pains in the Loins, Constitutional Debility, Impotency, Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin; and all those serious and melancholy Disorders arising from the destructive habits of Youth, which destroy both body and mind. These secret and solitary practices are more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes of anticipations, rendering Marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellects, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with all confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or Young Men contemplating Marriage, being aware of physical weakness, nervous debility, deformities, &c., should immediately consult Dr. Johnston, and be restored to perfect health.

He who places himself under the care of Dr Johnston, may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician immediately cured and full vigor restored.

This disease is the penalty most frequently paid by those who have become the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue.—Now, who that understands the subject will attempt to deny that the power of Procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged; the physical and mental powers weaken, nervous debility, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, a wasting of the frame, cough, symptoms of consumption, &c.

OFFICE—No. 7, South Frederick Street, Seven Doors from Baltimore St., East side, up the Steps. ☞ Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistake the place

NO MERCURY OR NAUSEOUS DRUGS USED.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and a greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, &c., where he has effected some of the most astonishing cures ever known. Many patients, who had paid fruitless visits to the cities and bend where they resided, being alarmed at sudden exposure and nakedness, with frequent vomiting attended, sometimes, with derangement of mind, were cured immediately

A Certain Disease.

When a misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this destructive disease, it too often happens that an unmanly sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who from education and respectability, are alone competent to cure him. This dreadful disease, if not entirely eradicated from the constitution, as unfortunately is the case with one-half of the patients who apply to me, will make its appearance in the form of a virulent sore throat, diseased nose, nodes, pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at length destroys the mouth or the bones of the nose, and the victim of this awful disease sinks into a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings. Ah! what numbers fall victims to this horrid disease by those trifling impostors, who only ruin their health, and never cure the disease. Let such apply to him who has made the cure of this disease his study for many years, and one who can be consulted with confidence, and whose responsibility is well known. There are many persons who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons before contemplating should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospects hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

OFFICE No. 7 SOUTH FREDERICK ST. Baltimore. Md.

ALL SURGICAL OPERATIONS PERFORMED BY DR. JOHNSTON is the only regular Physician advertising to cure private complaints.—His remedies and treatment are entirely unknown to others. Prepared from a life spent in the great hospitals of Europe and the first in this country, viz: England, France, the Blockley of Philadelphia, &c., and a more extensive practice than any other Physician in the world. His many wonderful cures and most important surgical operations are a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted. Those who wish to be speedily and effectually relieved, should shun the numerous trifling imposters, who only ruin their health, and apply to him.

THE STATES AND UNION,

THE CHEAPEST PAPER IN THE SOUTH.

ONLY ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM FOR THE WEEKLY EDITION.

During the month of October we will commence the publication of our paper, on NEW, LARGE, AND LEGIBLE TYPE, under the title of

THE STATES AND UNION.

It will be conducted with an exclusive regard to the principles of the State-rights Democracy, will be independent of factions, unbiased by partial interests, and furnished to subscribers at the low price of ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

This is but barely remunerative; but we have placed it thus low in order that it may be within the reach of every Democrat and others who are inclined to read it. It will contain all the leading editorials which appear in the daily editions, as well as a large amount of general intelligence, embracing much valuable information relating to the affairs of government, and matters of interest, appertaining to Literature, Agriculture, and Commerce. It will also contain all the Government Advertisements and official notices.

The events which will transpire during the next twelve months will make a paper published at the seat of government of more than ordinary interest.

The STATES AND UNION, during this period, will contain a perfect history of the proceedings of the NEXT CONGRESS, which will perhaps be of more interest to the nation than any previous Congress which has assembled at Washington since the formation of the government.

It will embrace the whole political canvass for the NEXT PRESIDENCY, up to the day on which the election takes place; in fact, it may be regarded as THE CAMPAIGN PAPER, and the cheapest paper of the kind ever issued.

We see no reason why its circulation should not be extended to fifty thousand in a few months. The indications are favorable to such a result from the substantial manifestations which we receive day by day in the large number of subscribers. A remittance may be made for a single copy by carefully wrapping up a GOLD DOLLAR and enclosing it in an envelope.

POSTMASTERS AND OTHERS, who will take the trouble of getting us up a club of ten subscribers, at the rate of ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR for each subscriber, will be furnished with a copy of the WEEKLY STATES AND UNION for one year gratis.

Payments in all cases required in advance.

Current money in the different States received in payment for subscriptions.

All letters should be addressed to

JOHN P. HEISS,
Washington, D. C.

The Daily and Semi-Weekly Editions

of the STATES AND UNION will be much enlarged, and issued at the following rates:

One copy per year $6 00
Two copies per year 10 00

SEMI-WEEKLY.

One copy per year 3 00

ELIZABETH CITY:

TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 8, 1859.

The Maryland Elections.

We give to-day some reports from the election held on Tuesday in Maryland, by which it will be seen that, notwithstanding the reign of mob law in Baltimore, the Democrats have gained largely in the State. The indications are that the Democrats will have a majority in the popular branch of the Legislature, which last year stood 30 Democrats to 44 "Americans." The Senate is in doubt; the Americans had a majority of 8 in that body last year.

The opening and closing of the Polls in Baltimore, was a mere farce, though tragical in its consequences.

We take a report of the proceedings there from the Norfolk Herald, an Opposition print. It is a startling picture to gaze upon, and should cause our people to tremble for the safety of our institutions. If such things are tolerated; if mob law is to rule in the place of free suffrage; if the strong arm of the rowdy, and the pistol and bowie knife are to decide the political questions of the day; and if by such means rulers are to be chosen in the place of a free and independent exercise of the elective franchise, then is the question of the capacity of the people for self government at last decided, and those who have held them to be so, must acknowledge the error in which they have so long indulged. But we cannot think that the majority of the people of Baltimore can longer countenance the reign of a party under whose auspices mob law has been inaugurated and their city disgraced. We cannot believe that the scenes enacted on Tuesday last will be allowed to go unrebuked, and the reign of terror be longer tolerated. Madness rules the hour, but surely the bloody deeds that will render the second of November memorable in the history of the city, will awake the people to a sense of their condition, must cause them to reflect, and band together to drive back the armed hordes that are making Baltimore a by word and reproach among men.

The Harper's Ferry Affair.

"Strange things are being developed in reference to the recent attack upon Harper's Ferry by the insurgents. Gov. Willard, of Indiana, whose Democratic proclivities are known throughout the country, and brother-in-law of Cook, the second in command of the insurgents, seems to be at the bottom of the whole affair."

We must confess our surprise to find the above in the last issue of the State. What does it mean? Is it intended to exculpate the Black Republicans from the responsibility which attaches to them for the murders and outrages committed at Harper's Ferry, and to fix it upon the Democratic paarty? The attempt to shirk the odium of old Brown's deeds, might have been expected from the anti-slaveryites, but we never could imagine that E. City State would become their apologists by charging, by inuendo, the Democratic party with being the instigators of the murderous crusade against a Southern State. The accusation brought against Gov. Willard, is founded upon the baseless supposition of a miserable unprincipled letter writer of the Baltimore Patriot. There is not one word, that we have seen, in all the developments made, involving Gov. Willard, and the fact of his going to Harper's Ferry in the midst of the excitement, when he knew that te be implicated would have ensued his arrest proves conclusively his entire innocence.

Secretary Floyd is also sought to be connected with this matter. For the purpose of operating upon the election in New York and Maryland; he is accused of conniving at an invasion of his own State by blood thirsty villians for the purpose of freeing negroes, and murdering the unsuspecting inhabitants We cannot think that the State reflected upon what it was doing, and examined the extract from the Patriot, appended to the comment above, and which we insert below. We will not believe, until we have it so stated, that the State really holds Secretary Floyd capable of so fiendish, so diabolical, so damnable an act, as the one charged by the Patriot and its correspondent. If he is guilty human ingenuity would fail to irrentortive officiently great to be inflicted for the deed, and the concentrated torments of a dozen hells would be too mild for such a villian. The thing is the offspring of a corrupt heart, and we think the State will not hesitate to acknowledge the injustice which it has done both to Secretary Floyd and the Democratic party. The following is the extract from the Patriot:

"We have reliable intelligence from Washington," says the Baltimore Patriot, "that Gov. Willard, of Indiana, is at the bottom of the whole affair. Cook, who is his brother-in-law, is said to have been prompted by him to inveigle the mad man Brown and his weak minded followers into the net thus spread for them, and then to desert them, with the assurance that he (Cook) should be let off scot-free, if he should not escape. Willard is now at Charlestown, and Cook is to be used as State's evidence, on condition of his release. This will probably explain the suppression of that letter by Gov. Floyed. The whole outbreak, it is now believed in Washington, was contrived solely with a view to operate politically upon the elections in New York and Maryland.—We thought as much from the beginning. The public are requested to keep their eye on Cook, and see whether he is not released.

☞ From a paragraph in another column, it will be seen that Cook, the second in command of the Harper's Ferry insurgents, avows himself a full-blooded Democrat. What a precious compound this Democratic party is!—State.

Comment is unnecessary.

"CATECHISM."

Under this head the State replies to the interrogations propounded to it in our last. We desired to know if the State would elect between a Democrat and Black Republican for the Presidency? They answer, We would. If we are not too inquisitive, we will ask another question, suggested by the above reply. Will the State tell us the choice which it would make?

Question 2nd:

"Do they hold it to be the duty of the twenty-one Oppositionists from the South, in the next House of Representatives to vote for "the most objectionable of the Republicans" for speaker in preference to "any Democrat that could be named?"

Pioneer.

Answer!—No.—State.

Glad to hear it. The State refuses to claim in with the organs of the Opposition in Virginia and Maryland. The Richmond Whig and Baltimore Patriot, both of which urge their Southern friends to so to do.

Question 3d:

Will they endorse the following from the Baltimore Patriot, and thus avow their sympathy with the Republicans of New York?

"Americans of Maryland! send your respects to your brethren of the Opposition in New York, on the morning of the 3d of November, greeting them with a triumphant victory, and bid them go and do likewise on the 8th. It is the Presidential battle that you are to fight next Wednesday.—Remember that. Join hands then with the Opposition in the Empire State, and your voice in the selection of President will be heard and heeded."—Pioneer.

Answer—We would—but it is no avowal of sympathy with the Black Republicans of New York.—State.

Question 4th.

The State declares its endorsement of the paragraph from the Patriot, and says that "it is no avowal of sympathy with the Black Republicans of New York." We imagine it will puzzle that sheet to make it anything else. There are but two parties in New York. The Democrats and Black Republicans. The Americans have no ticket of their own, properly speaking.

The Utica convention—"American"—selected a portion of the tickets already in the field, and advised them being voted for. One half of these are regular nominees of the Democratic party; the other half are straight out Republicans, and nominated by a straight out Black Republican convention—they are men of the true blue anti-slavery stamp. The former cannot be the "Opposition." The latter are, and with their friends of the same kidney, on the straight out ticket, compose the only "Opposition" in New York. The State bids them win a "triumphant victory" on the 8th. If that is not sympathy with the Black Republicans please tell us for whom the sympathy is intended.

Should Simon Cameron, N. P. Banks, or any man of the same stamp, be nominated by an Opposition Convention, will the State support the nominee?

Pioneer.

Answer—Should Stephen A. Douglas, the favorite of the Pioneer, be nominated by the Charleston Convention, we would.

State.

And yet Simon Cameron and N. P. Banks are not opposed to the protection of slavery in the territories, but assert the doctrine that Congress has the power, and should exercise it, to exclude slavery. Mr. Douglas denies that any such power is vested in Congress, and contends that it is alone the privilege of the people of the territories to regulate the matter.

Jury. By what authority does the State assert that Mr. Douglas is a "favorite" of ours?

Question 5th.

The State denounces the doctrines of Mr. Douglas; will it support a man nominated by the Opposition holding the same opinions?—Pioneer.

Answer.—We will not, if there is any man in the field holding better opinions.

State.

Clear as a thunder cloud that.

We have complied with your request, neighbor, and as "one good turn deserves another," will you answer the following?—

If Douglas, the favorite of the Pioneer, be nominated, will that journal go for the man while repudiating his principles, and is that carrying out the Democratic doctrine of "principles and not men?"

If the Opposition should nominate a man endorsing the Dred Scott decision, will the Pioneer support him in preference to Douglas?—State.

Before answering the questions put to us by the State, we must take the liberty of saying that, that paper is not warranted in designating Mr. Douglas as our "favorite." He is not our "favorite," but, between him and any man the "Opposition" can bring out he would be a decided "favorite."—There are many men in our ranks which we should prefer to him, but his claims over the best man that can, by any possible means, be raked up from a united Opposition as a candidate for the Presidency cannot be estimated.

We will now endeavor to satisfy our neighbor upon the first of its genious.

When Mr. Douglas places himself in opposition to the principles of the Democratic party, we cannot longer support him. We go for "measures not men," and in voting for Mr. Douglas, we should vote for him, because of his uncompromising hostility to the aims and ends of the Black Republicans, from whose ranks the only opposition candidate worthy the name, must come in 1860.

To the second enquiry we answer, NO!!!

Mr. Douglas endorses the Dred Scott decision, and says that he has made more speeches on its support than any man in the Union.

The State must be jesting when it talks about an "Opposition" candidate endorsing the Dred Scott decision, the thing is out of the question. Does Cameron, Banks, or Cowin endorse it?

Well Done For Maryland.

Notwithstanding the reign of rowdyism that prevailed in Baltimore, the Democrats of Maryland have done nobly. They have made a clear gain of thirteen members, so far as the returns are in, for the lower branch of the Legislature, and several members of the Senate. This is a withering rebuke to the powers that prevail in the city; it shows pretty clearly the public estimate of their conduct.

MARYLAND ELECTION.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—It became evident early in the day, that scenes of rioting and blood-shed would mark the election. At noon, the reports from the various wards showed that the Reformers stood no chance of securing an impartial vote.

The 3d ward was blocked up by rowdies and the police were inactive.

In the 10th ward, the rowdies compelled the Reformer Judge of the election to leave the polls, and all the Reform votes were driven away, beaten and otherwise maltreated.

In the 15th ward, Adam B. Kyle, a merchant of Hanover street, was shot and killed, and Geo. Kyle, his brother, dangerously shot.

In the 15th ward, the Reformers resisted with fire-arms, and one of the notorious rowdy leaders was killed and two others wounded. Two Reformers were wounded.

In the 16th ward, the Reformers were driven off.

In the 18th ward, the rowdies were in full possession, and one of the Reformers was severely beaten.

In the 5th ward, the Reformers were driven off early. A son of Joshua Vansant was severely beaten. Shots were fired, but with harmless result.

In the 1st, 2d and 4th wards the rowdies had the voting all to themselves.

In the 12th ward, the rowdies had a swivel, and drove off all the Reformers.—In this and the 15th ward, gangs of rowdies from Washington, aided those of this city. In the last named ward a boy was mortally shot in the breast.

These are only a portion of the incidents. In most of the wards, the Reformers were assaulted, beaten and maltreated.

In the 11th ward, a stronghold of the Reformers, Gen. McGill, a prominent Reformer made a speech, and announced the withdrawal of Mr. John H. Thomas, Reform candidate for State Attorney. The Reformers then all withdrew, finding it impossible to accomplish anything.

Wm. P. Preston, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 3d district, is now lying at Barnum's Hotel, having been badly beaten with a billy about the head. The assault is said to have occurred in the 7th ward.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2—9 o'clock P. M.—At 3 o'clock, Dr. Robinson, of the Central Reform Committee, came to the 12th ward poll, and announced that the Reformers were being driven from every ward except that and the 8th, and counselled those there to withdraw, to avoid further bloodshed; whereupon, Dr. Thomas, Reform Judge of election, retired, and the contest was abandoned. Previously, the Reformers throughout the city withdrew, leaving the polls in the hands of the rowdies.

Numerous reports of minor outrages on private rights of citizens are in circulation in the several wards.

In the 2d ward a German was shot in hip In the 5th, a man whose name is unknown was badly beaten.

The most reliable account is, that Wm. P. Preston, candidate for Congress, was assaulted at Govanstown, in Baltimore county One account says he was beaten by an Irishman.—There are so many reports that it is difficult to arrive at the truth.

Mr. Kyle was shot in the head. He was living an hour since, but in a hopeless condition, as the ball is buried in his brain.

The streets are nearly deserted to-night, except by the victorious party. All the stores were closed at dark.

The proprietor of the Daily Exchange having been threatened with assault on his office, made a demand on the city authorities for protection.

[THIRD DISPATCH.]

BALTIMORE, Nov, 2—11 o'clock P. M.

The Americans are rejoicing over their victory.

The Reformers deny that anything like an election has taken place.

All the offices being on the same ticket, it will be late before returns are received.

In the 17th ward the average American vote is 860; the highest Reform vote is 24.

Mr. Kyle died at 9 o'clock to-night.

[FOURTH DISPATCH.]

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2—12 o'clock, Midnight.—The following are the city returns received, but probaly indicate the general result:

OCEAN STEAMING 100 MILES AN HOUR. A letter is published in the Buffalo papers, signed by ex-Presinent Millard Fillmore, Hon. S. G. Havens and a number of influential citizens, addressed to Collin Germain, requesting him to make a public explanation of his principle of construction for steam navigation. He proposes to establish, amongst others, the following proposition:—That steamers may be constructed to run one hundred miles an hour, and so strong that the greatest oceanic forces would not endanger their safety; that the economy of their movements will be such as to reduce the cost of transportation to less than one-fifth of the present rates; that when loaded with a large freight, a full passenger list, and fuel enough for a voyage around the world, it would not draw over twenty-two feet; and that as a war ship one would be an overmatch to all existing navies. Germain has made the subject his study for thirteen years, and now makes it public for the first time, Eminent engineers of the United States pronounce the plan practicable, and destined to work a complete revolution in steam navigation,

The Sinking of the Steamer New World.

STATEMENT OF THE PASSENGERS.

A terrible accident happened last night, at 7 o'clock, to the steamer New World of the People's line, while on her way from this city to Albany. She was opposite Tubby Hook, about nine miles from her dock in New York, when the engineer was startled by the ringing of the alarm bell. He was in the fire room at the time, and instantly springing towards the machinery, saw that it was out of order.

The engine was immediately stopped, and the engineer issued orders to the firemen to put out the fires, but before this could be accomplished, the walking beam and piston rod broke, and carrying the other machinery with it, the whole went crashing through the bottom of the steamer. The noise was very great, and many of the passengers thought that the boat had run upon a rock, and was badly broken in. The excitement was intense, and a rush by the passengers was made from the cabins to the deck, but their fears were told that nothing was the matter, and that everything was all right. The next moment, however, the cry of "She's sinking!"—"She's sinking!" rang like a funeral knell in the ears of the now frightened and excited passengers. The alarm proved too true. The machinery had passed completely through the bottom of the steamer, thus leaving a large hole, through which an immense body of water rushed with terrible force. The excitement was now really awful; a rush was made by every one below to the deck, and, under the impulse of the moment, it is said that three ladies and two gentlemen jumped overboard and were drowned.

All was now confusion and dismay on deck. The steamer was sinking fast; three hudred passengers were on board, and an inevitable death appeared to be staring them in the face, as no vessels were near.

The night was very dark, and the snow fell thick and fast. A small boat was lowered from the steamer, when the passengers rushed in, and some jumped from the deck into the boat, and as a natural consequenc she was swamped. How many were in the boat at the time, or how many were, drowned, our reporter could not learn.—Others seized upon the life preservers which were in their cabins and above deck, and fastening them around their bodies, waited for the sinking of the steamer.

The pilot had turned her bow towards the west shore, with the intention of running her aground, but she only went a short distance, as her machinery being lost, she could not of course be propelled forward. At this time about fifteen minutes after the accident occurred, the shouts of the passengers on the hurricane deck had attracted the attention of the crew of the sloop Jack Downing, Capt. Erastus W. Crane, bound for Albany from Elizabethtown, with a load of coal By the exertions of the captain and crew she was got alongside of the sinking steamer, and throwing ropes from vessel to vessel, she was brought to within a few feet of the steamer, when several of the passengers sprang from the deck of the latter to that of the former.

Hope now sprang up in the hearts of all at the sight of the little sloop, but they little thought that, with her heavy load of coal, she could not with safety take one quarter of the passengers, nor did this idea enter their heads until they saw the ropes cast off, and some that could not be unloosed, cut. At this terrible moment, the steamer sinking lower and lower, two tow boats, the Syracuse and Ohio, came alongside and took off the rest of the passengers. On board the sloop there were sixty five. A subscription for Captain Crane and his crew was made, and upwards of $75 were raised and presented to him, with the thanks of the rescued. Small boats took the passengers from the deck of the sloop to the dock at Yonkers.

The passengers taken off by the steamboats were also landed at that place.

None of them took away their luggage, and a number returned to this city this morning to see the owners respecting it.—New York Commercial Advertiser of 27th.

[From Arthur's Home Magazine.]

A Rift in the Cloud.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

Andrew Lee came home at evening from the shop where he had worked all day, tired, and out of spirits; came home to his wife, who was also tired, and out of spirits.

'A smiling wife, and a cheerful home—what a paradise it would be!' said Andrew to himself, as he turned his eyes from the clouded face of Mrs. Lee, and sat down, with knitted brows, and a moody aspect.

Not a word was spoken by either. Mrs. Lee was getting supper, and she moved about with a weary step.

'Come,' she said at last, with a side glance at her husband.

There was invitation in the word only, none in the voice of Mrs. Lee.

Andrew arose and went to the table.—He was tempted to speak an angry word, but controlled himself, and kept silence.—He could find no fault with the chop, nor the sweet home-made bread, nor the fragrant tea. They would have cheered his inward man, if there had only been a gleam of sunshine on the face of his wife. He noticed that she did not eat.

'Are you not well, Mary?' The words were on his lips, but he did not utter them, for the face of his wife looked so repellant, that he feared an irritating reply. And so, in moody silence, the twain sat together until Andrew had finished his supper. As he pushed his chair back, his wife arose, and commenced clearing off the table.

'This is purgatory!' said Lee to himself, as he commenced walking the floor of their little breakfast room, with his hands thrust desperately away into his trousers pockets, and his chin almost touching his breast.

After removing all the dishes, and taking them into the kitchen, Mrs. Lee spread a green cover on the table, and placing a fresh trimmed lamp thereon, went out, and shut the door after her, leaving her husband alone with his unpleasant feelings.—He took a long, deep breath as she did so, paused in his walk, stood still for some moments, and then drawing a paper from his pocket, sat down by the table, opened the sheet, and commenced reading. Singularly enough the words upon which his eyes rested were, 'Praise your wife.' They rather tended to increase the disturbance of mind from which he was suffering.

'I should like to find some occasion for praising mine.' How quickly his thoughts expressed that ill-natured sentiment.—But his eyes were on the page before him, and he read on:

'Praise your wife, man; for pity's sake, give her a little encouragement; it won't hurt you.'

Andrew Lee raised his eyes from the paper, and muttered 'Oh, yes. That's all very well. Praise is cheap enough. But praise her for what? For being sullen, and making home the most disagreeable place in the world?' His eyes fell again to the paper.

'She has made your home comfortable, your hearth bright and shining, your food agreeable; for pity's sake, tell her you thank her, if nothing more. She don't expect it; it will make her eyes open wider than they have for ten years; but it will do her good for all that, and you, too.'

It seemed to Andrew as if this sentence were written just for him, and just for the occasion. It was the complete answer to his question, 'Praise her for what?' and he felt it also as a rebuke. He read no further, for thought came too busy, and in a new direction. Memory was convicting him of injustice towards his wife. She had always made his home as comfortable for him as hands could make it, and had he offered the light return of praise or commendation? Had he ever told her of the satisfaction he had known, or the comfort experienced? He was not able to recall the time or the occasion. As he thought thus, Mrs. Lee came in from the kitchen, and taking her work-basket from a closet, placed it on the table, and sitting down, without speaking, began to sew. Mr. Lee glanced almost stealthily at the work in her hands, and saw that it was the bosom of a shirt which she was stitching neatly. He knew that it was for him that she was at work.

'Praise your wife.' The words were before the eyes of his mind, and he could not look away from them. But he was not ready for this yet. He still felt moody and unforgiving. The expression of his wife's face he interpreted to mean ill-nature, he had no patience. His eyes fell upon the newspaper that lay spread out before him, and he read the sentence:

'A kind, cheerful word, spoken in a gloomy home, is like the rift in a cloud that lets the sunshine through,"

Lee struggled with himself a while longer. His own ill-nature had to be conquered first; his moody, accusing spirit had to be subdued. But he was coming right, at last got right, as to will. Next came the question as to how he should begin. He thought of many things to say, yet feared to say them, lest his wife should meet his advice with a cold rebuff. At last, leaning towards her, and taking hold of the linen bosom upon which she was at work, he said, in a voice carefully modulated with kindness.

'You are doing that work very beautifully, Mary."

Mrs. Lee made no reply. But her husband did not fail to observe that she lost almost instantly that rigid erectness with which she had been sitting, nor that the motion of her needle had ceased.

'My shirts are better made, and whiter than those of any other man in our shop," said Lee, encouraged to go on.

'Are they?" Mrs. Lee's voice was low and had in it a slight huskiness. She did not turn her face, but her husband saw that she leaned a little towards him. He had broken though the ice of reserve, and all was easy now. His hands were among the clouds, and a few feeble rays were already struggling through the rift it had made.

'Yes, Mary," he answered softly; 'and I've heard it said more than once, what a good wife Andrew Lee must have."

Mrs. Lee turned her face towards her husband. There was light in it, and light in her eye. But there was something in the expression of the countenance that a little puzzled him.

'Do you think so?" she asked, quite soberly.

'What a question?" ejaculated Andrew Lee, starting up, and going around to the side of the table where his wife was sitting.

'What a question, Mary!" he repeated, as he stood before her.

'Do you?" It was all she said.

'Yes, darling," was his warmly spoken answer, and he stooped down and kissed her. 'How strange that you should ask such a question!'

'If you would only tell me so now and then, Andrew, it would do me good." And Mrs. Lee arose, and leaning her face against the manly breast of her husband, stood and wept.

What a strong light broke in upon the mind of Andrew Lee. He had never given to his faithful wife even the small reward of praise for all the loving interest she had manifested daily, until doubt of his love had entered her soul, and made ligh around her thick darkness. No wonder that her face grew clouded, nor that what he considered moodiness and ill-nature took possession of her spirit.

'You are good and true, Mary. My own dear wife. I am proud of you—I love you—and my first desire is for your happiness. Oh, if I could always see your face in sunshine, my home would be the dearest place on earth."

'How precious to me are your words of love and praise, Andrew," said Mrs. Lee, smiling up through her tears into his face

'With them in my ears, my heart can never lie in shadow.

How easy had been the work of Andrew Lee. He had swept his hand across the cloudy horizon of his home, and now the bright sunshine was streaming down, and flooding that house with joy and beauty.

John Strauss and His Sophie Waltz.

Translated from the German.

Strauss is a second Orpheus, whose tender-moving, spirit-stirring, love-kissing, music conquers the most inveterate enemy of Terpsicoore; whose magic sounds soothe hearts, still sighs, dry tears, tame wild beasts, and move the stones themselves.—Strauss has written waltzes that are more to me than many operas. In seven of his measures, there is often more melody than in as many heavy scores of other musicians. What a fulness of syren beauty, what a rich mine of poetry; what an inexhaustible fount of ever-gushing melody! And not the melody alone, the rythm also with magical influence seizes the brain and enters the heart. His violin is a talisman, by which he draws from the depths of the human soul brightest joy and deepest wo, and mingles them with master hand. The bow with which he draws many colored tones from his instrument is a magic wand, which touches the grief torn soul with the healing balsam of joy and leads her wings to mount up into the heaven of peace. There are many waltz composition rich in melody, but few as rich in rythm those of Strauss—by turns skipping, humming, waltzing, gliding and dancing so inviting, so irresistible that no dancer can withstand and their witching influence. He is the idol of women. In every house, on every piano in Vienna lie Strauss waltzes. He has written over two hundred, all are favorites, all are sung and trilled, and played throughout Europe.—Cbbler and dandy hum and pipe them; orchestra and barrel organ play them. We hear them in the street, and in the ball, in the garden and at the theatre. The dancing Viennese carry him on their shoulders and shout "Strauss forever."

This Strauss—this waltz-hero loved the daughter of a count. Sophie was her name. Her eye was bluer than Italy's heaven, and softer than the sweet light of the evening star. Grace and beauty were in every motion and music in every tone. In a word Sophie was beautiful, dazzlingly beautiful. He would have given worlds to win but one glance of love, but she was cold and stern. Madness, indeed, for a poor musician, with nothing but his violin, to dare to love the high-born Sophie who had as many noble ancestors as he had waltzes.

'Impertinent,' said Sophie, and when he came to give her brother a lesson on the violin, she scarcely deigned him a look. Shortly afterwards, Sophie was betrothed to Count Robert, Lord Chamberlain, who had indeed as many proud ancestors as Sophie, but beyond these and his titles, had nothing of which he could boast.

One day Strauss chanced to be alone with Sophie, he sank upon his knees before her, and with burning words declared his love, and besought her to give him but one word, or look of love ere quite driven to despair. But neither tears nor protestations moved her—she was cold and unfeeling as marble. 'I am an affianced bride,' she said haughtily, and 'if I were not think you I would become the wife of a poor musician?' She turned scornfully away and left him alone in his grief and despair. The repentance which soon awoke in the heart of Sophie, unhappily came too late. The bride—l groom and her father hastened the marriage—in eight days she would be the wife of Count Robert. The ceremony was to be performed in the great saloon of the city, and the Count called on Strauss, to request him to lead the orchestra on that occasion, and to honor his bride with the composition of a new waltz.

Strauss, the most miserable man in God's universe, promised him both. 'He wishes to wound me yet more deeply,' said the unhappy man to himself—'but I forgive him; and may she be happy—may she never repent her choice.'

He addressed himself earnestly to his work. This waltz should be the interpretor of his passion and his grief to Sophie. It should challenge at least her pity, if not her love. When all the great city slept, Strauss took his violin, opened his window, gazed out into the coldnight and improvised and moaned forth his sad tale of wo to the sweet stars above that looked kindly down on the desolate and heart-stricken.

The day of the wedding came at last.—This fierce agony of love had given him a waltz, every measure of which spoke a longing sorrow, a wailing wo. The hall glistened and shone with bright jewels, and bright eyes; but Sophie was more gloriously beautiful than all. The richest gems lent their charms and their lustre; the pure myrtle wreath bloomed in her golden hair, and the rare and costly bridal veil shaded her beautiful features, from the full gaze of the adoring crowd. Strauss, a haggard, emaciated man, with brilliant, piercing, black eyes, sharp, strongly marked features, dressed from head to foot in black, as though he had assumed this mourning livery for the bride now dead to him, stood sad and silent in the gallery above, directing the movements of the orchestra. Sophie danced now with another of the wedding guests, and so often as she paused after the giddy whirl of the dance, she turned her eyes towards the pale, grief stricken Strauss, in his robes of sorrow and mourning, and met his piercing look of despairing love.

It was more than pity she felt—it was remorse, it was killing love. A terrible pain awoke in her heart, like a stream, grown even wider and deeper, threatening to overwhelm and destroy her quite.—Gladly she would have wept, but she dared not. It sounded twelve o'clock, and Strauss gave the signal for the performance of the new waltz. The gay dancers stood up, Sophie on the arm of the bridegroom. All stand spel-bound with the wonderous whichery of those sounds. They forgot to dance but gazed wonderingly up at the pale man in black, whose grief-torn soul breathed out its wo through the sounding strings of his instrument. His bow moved, with his heart went his spirit. The bridegroom led off—they dance and dance. Strauss follows the flying pair with tearful eyes—torn heart. They dance and dance and dance, and will never stop this wonderful waltz, which so fearfully affects both him and them. They dance and dance; he played and played—suddenly the E of his violin snaps, and in that moment Sophie falls dead upon the floor. Violin and bow fell from his trembling hands, and with a cry of horror, he shrieked, 'Sophie,' and fell fainting on the ground.

Since Sophie's death, the waltz is called by her name; Strauss loved her till his death. He, too, is now dead, but his charming Sophie Waltz lives yet.

The True Spirit Manifested Itself More and More.

We find the following in the Montgomery (Ala.) Confederation of the 19th instant—a journal edited by Mr. Seibels, our recent minister near the government of Belgium:

NORTHERN DEMOCRACY.—"Hon. J. J. Shiebels, of the Confederation, having returned to his post, after a tour North, says:

"We had the good fortune to meet many of the leading and most influential and distinguished Democrats of the North—yes, and in New England, both in and out of office—and we found nowhere a disposition to ignore the principles of the Kansas-Nebraska act, or the Dred Scott decision. On the contrary, all that we met evinced a willingness to stand by the Cincinatti Platform and Dred Scott decision."

"Will not Mr. Douglas insist upon his interpretation of the Constitution being engrafted into the platform as a new feature? That it tolerates squatter sovereignty? That no other construction could be placed upon that clause in the Kansas bill, which settles this question, and which says the people of a territory can regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States?"

"We take the above from the Columbus (Ga.) Times.

"We think we can assure our worthy confrere of the Times, with entire certainty that Mr. Douglas will not insist upon any such interpretation, unless driven to the wall by having the extreme opposite doctrine forced upon him and his friends in the Charleston Convention. While he does not expect to renounce any peculiar views of his own upon the subject of the rights of the people in the Territories, the same time will not strive to force the new plank, in the Charleston platform, will be satisfied to take the principles party as enunciated in the platform Cincinatti in 1856, and will go into the fight with the Democracy Black Republicanism. The only for our decisions are: 1st, can we Black Republicans without aid of and his friends? (we have never the man North or South, that could;) and if not, and we intend a serious effect to do so, would it be policy or good sense, to say the turn against Douglas and his announce and drive them from the ic party, before the fight begins? senseless movements that we seen inaugurated and carried on telligent set of men, that against at this time, by those who have themselves the exclusive guardians the South, takes the lead. It been quite as reasonable in the army at Yorktown to have first their allies, the French, who of Louis XVI, and therefore and driven them from the Americ the evening before the battle, were anti-Republican, as to denounce Judge Douglas and upon the eve of our deadly, and (as final as Yorktown) last battle Black Republicans. We cannot that a policy so fraught with disaster, will be insisted on by or any State thereof.

"As we said before, all we sonable ask of Douglas, or any are you willing to join in against the Black Republican Cincinnatti platform? If he thus willing, we are determined of any sort of denunciation to advise the counseling with regarding the means of defeat of enemy. For the once, at least, treat all as friends who are with overthrow of Black Republicanism

We may observe that the Presi not probably in the entire South a stant or sincere friend than the the preceding paragraphs.

Even if Judge Douglas were times more odious than he transcendentalists of our party, it admitted wherever there is elan his co-operation with us is a necessity, if we are not to be overwhelmed the "irresistible conflict" of

In the great single issue of versus the Constitution, even ertions as Judge Douglas and made in 1856 it is by no means that we shall be enabled to win

To undertake to do so without erful aid would be (as we have contended) the silliest of absurdities reputate him would be, in effect, as to disband our forces and acknowledge that we are whipped.

We regard it as more than probable the Democracy will have at its electoral votes of every slaveholding —numbering in all 120—with the electorial votes of Oregon, amounting to seven more, 127. Twenty seven more will be to carry our candidate. Where is that we should look for them? Pennsylvania can supply them, without doubt New York can supply them, with a few to spare. Indiana, Illinois, and New Jersey can supply them, with three to spare. Thus there are three chances for us and three only. But would there be so much as the shadow of excuse, to commit the stupid act of running erless the potential support of Douglas can afford to our cause?

We are free to say that we know any individual of our party who approves policy of non-fraternization with Douglas, in such a momentous crisis as that in which we are involved, is a democrat in nothing else but in name and classification.

With united, cordial, resolute action such as we demonstrated in the year 1856—we may possibly save our country from the danger to which Black Republicanism is strenuously exerting itself to submit it. Nothing but such action will do so. Woe be to the presidential aspirant or his friends, who, from self-seeking motives, shall endeavor to create an issue which can have an end so essential to a country's existance. In all coming time he would be loathed by the votaries of liberty and freedom in every land.—Ohio

A CARD.

William Lamb, of the Southern Argus, in a card in the Norfolk Herald, has used language in regard to himself, which, under other circumstances, I should notice in a manner different from this. But, as I have lately been compelled him to apologize to me for insulting language, after he had refused to do so as a gentleman—and, as he has been privy to the meanness of his friend, James F. Milligan, in suppressing a most important letter in the correspondence between Milligan and Mr. John W. Poole, published in the Herald which contained his name, I am precluded from again putting myself on a level with him—and must leave him to the judgement of the public, which he appears, by his repeated explanatory cards published to ask his apology to me, so much to be dread.

WM. H. BAGLEY.

A CARD.

Mr. James F. Milligan has published a part of a correspondence between himself and him—and in doing so, has suppressed a most important letter, in which I proved him to have been guilty of prevarication, duplicity and falsehood. I expected that he would have noticed that letter in the only way recognized among gentlemen. But he has shunned the emergency, and satisfied his wounded honor by meanly suppressing the letter, which public opinion would have required him to rescind—and has thus enabled himself to continue his quibbling upon the word "solicitation," and to call ugly names" at me.

His friend, William Lamb, of the Argus, by appending his card to the garbled publication of the correspondence, has shown himself to have been privy to that disgraceful act—and has also satisfied himself with the childish but safe revenge of calling "ugly names."

The public will hardly expect me to compromise my character by noticing such men further.

JNO. W. POOLE.

A CARD

EDITORS:

Will you please publish the subjoined correspondence, &c., (as a finale) in regard to the personal difficulty between the parties named below. It will be seen from the acknowledgement in John W. Poole's note of the 24th October, that I have pinned the guilt upon him in regard to the matter of solicitation." It is therefore unnecessary to expose other falsehoods and perversions contained in a subsequent letter from him addressed to me and signed for publication.

Yours respectfully.

JAS. F. MILLIGAN.

NORFOLK, October 27st 1859.

MR. JOHN W. POOLE:

SIR—

I send below a copy of a correspondence between my friend Lieut. Milligan and myself.—It will be published. As I have filled it forth, if there be anything in it which you take offence, please consider me as responsible. I have written this without the knowledge of Lieut. Milligan, whom I am unwilling to see involved in any personal difficulty on my account.

Your ob't serv't

WILLIAM LAMB.

TO JOHN W. POOLE, ESQ., E. City, N. C.

The course pursued by Mr. John W. Poole since the settlement of a difficulty between his principal, Mr. William H. Bagley and myself, having been contrary to the rules of honor, and in wilful violation of the truth, and it having been brought to my knowledge by a publication in Mr. Bagley's paper, the State, and by the letters of Mr. Poole, that Mr. Poole, has so acted with the entire concurrence of Mr. Bagley, I feel bound to declare that I have been mistaken in my estimate of these individuals, and that I now regard them both as contemptible and cowardly.

WILLIAM LAMB.

OFFICE OF THE CITIZEN, MURFREESBORO', N. C., Nov. 3rd, 1859.

To the Editor of the Democratic Pioneer:

Through the kindness of an unknown friend, possibly yourself—I have this moment received a proof sheet of some correspondence between Lieut. J. F. Milligan and Mr. Jno. W. Poole, which Mr. Poole requests you to publish, and which I presume is to appear in your forth coming issue. In Mr. Poole's letter of the 31st ult. Lieut. Milligan is represented as saying to Mr. Bagley: "I have formed a favorable opinion of you, and, if I can prevent it, no two such men as yourself and Maj. Lamb shall shoot at each other for such a scoundrel as Charles Henry Foster."

I cannot believe that Lieut. Milligan, with whom I am on the most friendly terms, and who has never failed to recognise me as a "gentleman," could in any event, or under election excitement, have made any such remark concerning me. Happily, a letter from Lieut. Milligan came by the same mail which brought the advance copy of the designed publication of correspondence. This letter I ask you, in simplest justice to myself, to publish, together with this note in the same issue of The Pioneer which may contain the "correspondence."

CHARLES HENRY FOSTER,

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 2d, 1859.

TO C. H. FOSTER, ESQ., MURFREESBORO', N C

Esteemed friend: Your last has been on hand some time, but, in consequence of misplacing it, I have deferred answering it until it should "turn up."

Circumstances have fully convinced me that you are justified in your opinion of Bagley & Co. They, (Bagley & Poole) are capable of asserting anything; as you will perceive in the next grand publication of the aforesaid Poole, which I will answer in a public card. You know I am candid; and, when guilty of a wrong, I make all reparation. These two worthies have placed me in a false light, and I shall so denounce them.

Your friend,

At a meeting of the M. E. Sabbath School of this Station, in the school-room at 9½ o'cl'k, A. M., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas: It has pleased Him, whose we are and whom we serve, to take our beloved and honored sister, Mrs. Fear C. Brooks, from the place of her usefulness in our Sabbath School to the reward of her righteousness; and whereas, we desire to show our high appreciation, of her services in this school, and offer to her relations that comfort wherewith we are comforted in the bereavement which has caused them and us so much grief, therefore,

Resolved: That this Sunday School is deeply afflicted at the loss of one of its most active and useful managers, and will always take pleasure in recalling her christian character, her social virtues, her untiring efforts to do good by visiting the sick, relieving the destitute poor, and by seeking to increase the number of scholars in our School.

Resolved: That the School will attend her funeral services at 3 o'clock, P. M., and that we will form in procession and follow the corpse to the grave.

Resolved: That our Secretary record these proceedings and transmit a copy to her son, to her sister, Mrs. S. W. Fearing; and also, send a copy to the "State," the "Pioneer" and "Richmond Christian Advocate" for publication.

AYER'S PILLS,

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c. &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this PILL has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing any thing hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the many eminent gentlemen who have testified in favor of these Pills, we may mention:

DR. A. A. HAYES, Analytical Chemist, of Boston, and State Assayer of Massachusetts; whose high professional character is endorsed by the HON. EDWARD EVERETT, Senator of the U. S.

ROBERT C. WINTHROP, Ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives.

ABBOTT LAWRENCE, Minister Plen. to England.

† JOHN B. FITZPATRICK, Cath. Bishop of Boston.

Also, DR. J. R. CHILTON, Practical Chemist of New York City, endorsed by

HON. W. L. MARCY, Secretary of State.

WM. B. ASTOR, the richest man in America

S. LELAND & Co., Propr's of the Metropolitan Hotel, and others.

Did space permit, we could give many hundred certificates, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the experience of eminent public men is found in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process in a state of purity, and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by this each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effects should prove as they have proved more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formulæ by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If, however, there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his address.

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known! Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills, and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Being sugar wrapped they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see wrapper on the Box.

WAVERLY NOVELS.

T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, of Philadelphia, Pa., have surpassed themselves by commencing, in weekly issues, the re-publication of Sir Walter Scott's novels, at the low cost of TWENTY-FIVE CENTS a number, or FIVE DOLLARS for the complete set, comprising thirty-two stories. We are very glad to see so cheap an edition of novels so much superior in their genius—to the watery trash that is written, and read, we suppose, by foolish people now-a-days. Better read them to the fiftieth time, than to waste time and spoil good taste over the blood and thunder of yellow-covered sensation novels. The Petersons' have thus far issued ten numbers, containing each a novel complete, viz, Old Mortality, Woodstock, Waverley, Ivanhoe, Rob Roy, Quentin Durward, Guy Mannering, Kenilworth. The Abbot and The Antiquary; and we would advise all our readers to send to the Messrs. Petersons for a set of these popular and undying works of the great novelist. They are now issued at the rate of one a week, and the whole twenty-six volumes can be had free of postage, by sending five dollars to the publishers. All persons now have an opportunity here to secure his works which has never before been offered, and which may never occur again. The present chance should be taken advantage of by all.

A VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE

IN NORFOLK CO., VA.

IT lies on the Dismal Swamp Canal, about 7 miles from Deep Creek and 14 from Norfolk, and contains from 1200 to 1500 acres, about 150 to 200 of which are now in arable order, the balance in original forest.

The soil is adapted to the production of Indian corn and other crops usually cultivated in that section. About 5 or 600 acres of the tract would make as fine a farm as any in Eastern Virginia; adjoining lands of similar quality unimproved, have produced from 14 to 15 barrels of corn per acre, and the wood and timber on the land would pay every expense of clearing, when it would be worth $50 per acre.

It presents, also, great facilities for carrying on the wood business. Immense quantities of the best quality could be sold at paying prices at Norfolk or on the Canal bank, along which the land stretches for several miles. The facilities of water carriage would also render the trucking business profitable.

There is a large Juniper swamp on the tract, valuable for its rail and shingle timber.

The pasturage and range for Stock is unsurpassed. A free School is within one mile of the dwelling. Persons desirous of purchasing are referred to Messrs. George T. Wallace and John West, who live near the place, and to Mr. Benjamin T. Tatem, near Norfolk, who will take pleasure in showing the land.

For further information and terms, which will be liberal, apply to

INFIRMARY FOR SLAVES

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

THE SUBSCRIBER has opened at the Marine Hospital (in a separate building) an INFIRMARY FOR INVALID SLAVES. He has ample accommodations for a limited number, and will give them his careful attention—supplying them with every necessary their case requires. An Institution of this kind offers many advantages to masters having servants afflicted with chronic or surgical diseases. And, from its economy, they are relieved of the expense and annoyance of having such upon a plantation.

The charges for Board, Medical attendance, Nursing, and Medicine are $6 per week, payable upon the removal of the patient.

In cases requiring a surgical operation, in addition to the above rates, a fee varying from $2 to $30, in different cases, will be charged for the operation, the particulars of which may be ascertained upon application at the Infirmary.

The services of any other regular Physician will be allowed, at the expense of the master.
